Argosy Composite Advanced Materials Announces Appointment of Nadine Cao as Sales Director — Aramid, EMEA

New York, New York · July 6, 2026 · For Immediate Release

Nadine Cao
SALES DIRECTOR — ARAMID, EMEA

Argosy Composite Advanced Materials (ACAM), a global supplier of advanced materials and engineered solutions serving aerospace and industrial markets, is pleased to announce the appointment of Nadine Cao as Sales Director Aramid - EMEA, effective July 1, 2026.

EFFECTIVE DATE

July 1, 2026

Appointment confirmed across ACAM's aramid honeycomb business

REGION

Europe, Middle East & Africa

Aramid honeycomb core, complementary products and engineered solutions

ROLE AND RESPONSIBILITIES

In her new role, Nadine will be responsible for leading ACAM's aramid honeycomb commercial activities across Europe, the Middle East and Africa (EMEA). She will focus on expanding the company's aramid honeycomb core business, strengthening customer relationships, identifying new application opportunities, and supporting the growth of complementary products and technologies throughout the region.

BACKGROUND AND EXPERIENCE

Nadine joins ACAM with significant experience in aerospace composites and honeycomb materials. Most recently, she served in a position where she managed customer relationships across multiple international markets and supported a broad range of aerospace honeycomb applications. Her background includes extensive commercial, purchasing, and supply chain leadership roles, providing a unique combination of strategic and operational expertise.

LEADERSHIP PERSPECTIVE

In 2017-18, Argosy initiated its pivot from prepreg to honeycomb and for the past eight years Argosy has continued to build the honeycomb business. Today, Argosy takes a significant step into the future with the appointment of Nadine to expand on the foundation we have built, lead our continued expansion and drive growth as we work to be a key player in this industry.

PAUL MARKS · FOUNDER AND CHAIRMAN

We are delighted to welcome Nadine to ACAM. Her deep experience in aerospace honeycomb materials, strong customer focus, and extensive international market knowledge make her a tremendous asset to our organization. We believe Nadine will play a key role in expanding our presence throughout the region and supporting our customers with innovative, high-value material solutions.
